The adjudicators are not members of the Executive Board of the Cecchetti Council of America. Every effort has been made to ensure that adjudicators have none or very minimal previous association with the competitors or their studios before the competition. Communications with the adjudicators either by the competitors, teachers or any other interested parties during the competition is strictly prohibited.

- There will be 3 outside adjudicators from the professional dance field, with the majority of the panel having classical expertise.

- Communications with the adjudicators either by the competitors, teachers, or other interested parties during the competition is prohibited.

Scoring

Classical, contemporary, and group categories will be scored separately. If a dancer is performing two classical variations, the overall final score will be an average of the scores given for each variation. This will also be the case if performing two contemporary solos. The scoring system consists of two elements - artistic and technical - and is evaluated on a 100 point system. Each judge's scores are the average of the technical and artistic marks. The total score is the average of scores given by all judges. In addition to providing a numerical score for each participant's performance, judges may offer personal comments on the score sheet to help guide participants in their training. Scoring is adjusted to students' individual technical levels.

Score Sheets

Score sheets will be available following the Awards Ceremony in the lobby at the registration desk. Score sheets are compiled according to school and may only be collected by a registered teacher from each school. Score sheets will not be released to any parents or students.
